This message confirms the direction furnished Major O'Clair following the pre-presentation review of graphics and supporting material by this office on October 19, 1967.

The graphics and supporting material for that portion of the Man-In-Space presentation pertaining to MOL will be limited to two slides (one a conceptual view of MOL orbiting vehicle, the other an actual photograph of the MOL heat shield test vehicle) and supporting information furnished by this office.

The graphics depicting the resources survey potential of the NASA Apollo Applications program will be removed from the presentation. Any supporting discussion or
